The computer calculates how the different 2D images relate to each other and generates a high-resolution structure in 3D.

Illustration: ©Johan Jarnestad/
The Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences